STORMWATER EDUCATION

May is American Wetlands Month. If you have walked around our City, you have probably noticed several wetlands with beautiful vegetation and habitat for wildlife. More importantly, these wetlands are like the “kidneys” of a watershed, helping to remove pollutants from stormwater that flows through. This amazing function of wetlands helps remove nutrients, sediment, pesticides, and metals that might otherwise get washed all the way into the Willamette River.

Let’s all avoid damaging our local wetlands so they can keep serving this important purpose.

HYBRID CERT TRAINING

The CERT Program (Community Emergency Response Team) now has a hybrid training program. The basic training modules are all now online—thanks to the University of Utah. After finishing the online modules, you will finish your course by demonstrating your skills. Anyone can sign up to get the training for free. For more information, contact Jerry Jackson at 541-745-5507.
