

We are under construction!

You read that correctly! The Interpretive Center in Adair Village is under construction. We need your help! We are actively looking for volunteers and board members to help with the finishing of the project and opening the display areas to tell the stories of the sacrifices that went into where the city is today. If this is of interest, please reach out to us through our website contact tab, adairhistory.org or join us for Adair History Day at Village Church on 5.17.2025